Virginia 4-H Healthy Living Ambassadors

Virginia 4-H has a new opportunity for teen members!

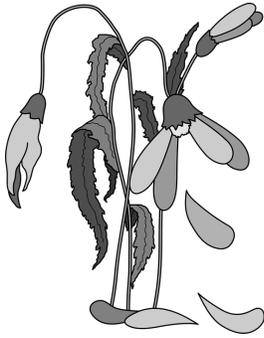

Samantha Whysong, our Virginia 4-H 2021 Healthy Living Youth in Action Award recipient, has been working with MaryBeth Lerch, Sandy Arnold, and Tonya Price to create a leadership team of 4-H Healthy Living Ambassadors.

Participants on the leadership team will be working together to plan a statewide Healthy Living Summit that will be held this fall.

PWC 4-H teens that have interest or experience with Healthy Living and would like to be a part of the new leadership team, should complete the short application: <https://forms.gle/eu73G4q4iZr8rowm7>. The deadline to apply is August 13th and candidates will be notified the week of August 16th. Interviews will begin the week of August 23rd.

Please contact Samantha Whysong, Tonya Price, MaryBeth Lerch, or Sandy Arnold with any questions.

PWC 4-H Fairgrounds Watering Schedule

Let's work together to keep our gardens beautiful! With high temps, low rainfall, vacation plans, busy schedules, and more, it's hard to get over to the fairgrounds to water our beautiful gardens. Please sign up for a slot so that we can join our helping hands to a common cause. Click here for the Watering Schedule Sign-Up organized by Susan Wolf, Old Dominion 4-H.

Thank You, Volunteers!

A huge thank you to the PWC 4-H'ers that jumped in on Friday to help re-open our Children's Barn at the fairgrounds. We dusted off the cobwebs and she's sparkling for PWC 4-H Summer Day Camp and the PWC Fair. Thanks for lending your helping hand!

Applications for Virginia 4-H Teen Summit Leadership Team Released

The 2021-2022 4-H Teen Summit Leadership Team application is open!

The Teen Summit Leadership Team is a group of young people who are passionate about social change and social justice issues and want to create a space in which teens can talk about these issues and opportunities around social issues that affect their communities. This group of young people will be in charge of creating the 2021 - 2022 Fall and Spring 4-H Teen Summit around youth voice and advocacy in a variety of topic areas, as well as other learning opportunities in between. This group will meet with their adult counterparts and within themselves to work to continue to make the best better with the teen summit.

Here are some expectations for the Teen Summit Leadership Team members:

- 3 hours commitment per week
 - * 1 hour meeting with entire group
 - * 1 hour meeting with event groups or teen group only
 - * 1 hour miscellaneous worktime
 - * Additional time as needed
- Full attendance at planned events
- Attendance at all meetings (unless leaders were notified in advance)
- Consistent communication through discord and/or email
- Respectfulness of other people's time
- Frustrations, difficulties or other issues are communicated as soon as they arise
- Open mindedness
- Honesty
- Cultivation of positive youth-adult partnerships

Please click here for the Teen Summit Leadership Team Application.

Applications are due no later than August 13th, 2021. This year the teen leads will be conducting interviews with applicants, and select the applicants that fit the needs of the group as a whole. Please hold August 25-27th in the evening for interviews, if you are selected to move onto this process. Accepted applicants that move on to the interview process will be notified no later than August 20th.

Labor Day Family Camp at the Northern Virginia 4-H Center

Community 4-H ART Project @ Prince William County Fair

Volunteers Needed for a fun "hands-on" Project

Two volunteers are needed to interface with the public, especially youth, and to help fair goers be part of a live and evolving art project for all to enjoy. Great service project for art and media student or anyone interested in art, community and communications. Easy set-up with plenty of support. May volunteer with a friend. Additional opportunity for a videographer. Help fair goers put a glove on, put a couple drops of paint on it, brush it around, and put their colorful hand print on the board. Also, a short video will be created by taking 2 seconds of videos of most all of the people doing their hand print. An video art project of the painting art project.

- Earn 4-H Community Service Hours
- Must enjoy working with the public, especially youth
- Not afraid of a little paint and getting your hands dirty

From our Partners: VCE Invites Participation in Farming Survey

As a member of the Virginia Farm Stress Network and as director of AgrAbility Virginia and the Virginia Beginning Farmer and Rancher Coalition, VCE would like to bring the following opportunity to your attention in an effort to help address the wellness and mental health needs of the farming community in Virginia.

A research team at NC State University working with NC Agromedicine Institute, Land Loss Prevention Project and the Rural Advancement Foundation International – USA is reaching out to solicit support for their project. Their team is conducting research on financial crisis, land tenure, and mental health issues faced by farm families. The purpose of the project is to reduce the loss of farms and lives by researching and testing culturally-responsive information and information delivery that addresses the combined financial, land tenure and mental health issues faced by farm families in severe financial distress.

If you decide to support this project, you will work with their research team on building a potential participant list and establishing contact with them. The following farmers can be involved in this study:

- are experiencing or have experienced significant periods of time where farm income is insufficient to cover costs of production;
- are or were in imminent danger of losing significant farm assets, including a home or farmland;
- are or were experiencing physical, emotional, or cognitive symptoms that interfere with the ability to adequately process information and access needed resources;
- whose financial situation has strained relationships and negatively affected the ability to be in community; or, may have considered harming themselves as relief.

These farmers will participate in an important way - by sharing their story in interviews and by supporting us in making materials that better serve farmers. Telling their story is a powerful way to support healing from the effects of financial hardship by helping other farmers going through similar distress. Interviews will be conducted until December 2021 via phone, video conference, or in person depending on university regulations and COVID-19 related conditions. During interviews, they will be asked about their farm, farming, financial hardship, resources, coping, and decision-making. Also, the participants will be provided with a transcript of their interview to check for accuracy. All research protocols have been approved by the NC State IRB. For more information, and to participate, please contact Andrew Smolski at (281) 468-5176 or at arsmolks@ncsu.edu.

Virginia Cooperative Extension helps people put scientific knowledge to work through learning experiences that improve economic, environmental, and social well-being. Educational programs are designed to enable families to better manage resources; help youth become self-directing, contributing and productive members of society; and improve the impact of urban horticulture on the environment. Program content is based on the research conducted at the state's two land-grant universities: Virginia Tech and Virginia State University.
