PW 4-H Young Entrepreneurs Are Ready for Market!

Last Wednesday, the Prince William 4-H Young Entrepreneurs met for their final workshop before they go to market to work on packaging and marketing. The 4-H'ers participated in a creative experiment to identify key marketing characteristics of off-brand and name brand cookies. They began by assigning brands and prices to 3 different cookies from a provided list. The cookies were challenging because they were similar in size, taste, and texture. The entrepreneurs were then provided the packages to explore the difference in marketing, including package size and quantity, colors, words, and more.

Some 4-H'ers were able to guess the popular name brand cookies. All were amazed in the difference in pricing.

We finished the workshop with the do's and don'ts of market day and creating their table decorations and displays.

VIRGINIA 4-H NORTHEAST DISTRICT FOOD CHALLENGE CONTEST

THE GRILL MASTERS

KITCHEN OF CHAOS

CHOP IT LIKE IT'S HOT

Prince William 4-H sent three teams to compete at the Virginia 4-H Northeast District Food Challenge:

- ★ Chop it Like it's Hot (Senior Team): Sana Canny, Cara Grahn, and Giovanni Castillo
- ★ Kitchen of Chaos (Junior Team): Isabel Castillo, Sofia Gruposso, and Grayson Dove
- ★ The Grill Masters (Mixed Age Group Team): Leena Canny, Bailey Dove, and Jair Sanchez

The Senior Team challenge featured portobello mushrooms as the secret ingredient. The Junior Team got creative with eggs. And the Mixed Team tackled sweet potatoes. All 4-H'ers did an outstanding job preparing and presenting their dishes (and may have taken a bite or two). A big congrats to CHOP IT LIKE IT'S HOT for moving on to compete at Virginia 4-H Congress!

A HUGE 4-H THANK YOU to US Foods for hosting the VA 4-H Northeast District Food Challenge. Thank you to Alan Lerch for arranging our visit and giving us a tour of the kitchen and food warehouse where we walked into the subzero freezer, observed the forklifts in action, saw how the giant batteries that power the factory vehicles are charged, and learned the system to store thousands of items in the warehouse. The 4-H'ers had a special opportunity to talk to professional chefs, food sales reps and maintenance men throughout the day. Thank you to our judges from Arlington 4-H and US Foods (professional chefs!) and thank you to parents for supporting youth as they pursue a greater understanding of the 4-H Pillar of Healthy Living.
