Middle-Income and First-Time Home Buyer Housing Needs of Northern Virginia: Examining the Extent of the Problem - Creating Solutions

2025 Housing Symposium

GEORGE MASON UNIVERSITY

OCTOBER 6, 2025

ARLINGTON, VA CAMPUS

The Northern Virginia Regional Commission recently published a migration report that illuminates the need for middle-income and first-time home buyers. This event provides the opportunity to discuss the demographic and economic challenges of the region uncovered in the migration report and to work together to find additional housing solutions to lead to an economically resilient community that remains competitive with more affordable regions of the country.

The symposium will bring together elected officials, non-profits, economic and housing industry professionals, policy and planning experts, and housing advocates to collaborate on regional solutions to create more attainable housing and housing opportunities for middle-income and first-time home buyers.
